SAN JOSE MCENERY CONVENTION CENTER

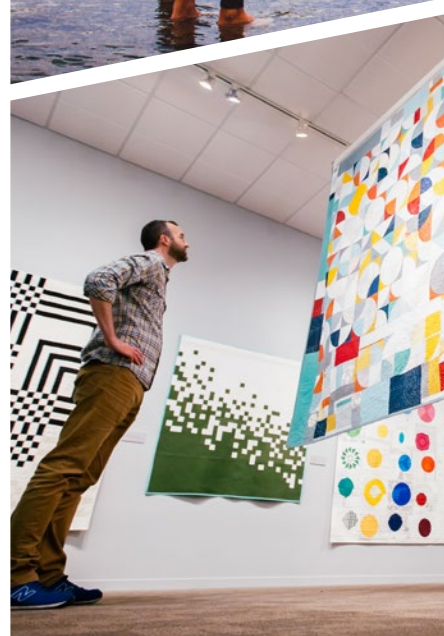

A woman in a purple tank top and black shorts stands between two massive, ancient-looking redwood trees. The trees are so tall and thick that they fill most of the frame, with sunlight filtering through the green leaves at the top. The woman is positioned in the lower center, looking up at the trees.

playtime

With three hundred days of sunshine annually, San Jose insures the best climate in the Bay Area to play in the California sun, and, offers lots of ways to play.

Our downtown markets are bursting with farm-to-fork delights and innovative craft-brews and cocktails. Another destination must-visit is Santana Row – the Rodeo Drive of Silicon Valley – where you can splurge on designer brands and visit the flagship Tesla showroom.

Adventure seekers can hike Big Basin – California’s oldest state park – or zip-line through magnificent redwood groves. If you prefer to relax, you can take it slow on a steam train to the Santa Cruz Beach Boardwalk and don’t forget to drive the coast on iconic Highway 1 for breathtaking views of the Monterey Bay and spectacular sunsets.

San Jose is centrally located in northern California, 45-minutes south of San Francisco and an hour from the gorgeous Monterey Bay. The city is fast becoming northern California's transportation hub, with Mineta San Jose International Airport (SJC) increasing their flight selections, Bay Area Rapid Transit (BART) extending to San Jose, and the California bullet train project to begin construction soon. You'll find it easy to get around San Jose and the neighboring cities on our extensive light rail system (VTA).
